IS TO VOTE AGAIN

$50,000 BOND ISSUE FOR TOWNSHIP TO BE RE-SUBMITTED.

A PETITION PRESENTED

Township Board and Commercial Club Back of Movement for Good Roads for Polk.

Polk township is again going to vote on a $50,000 bond issue for good roads. Such a petition with the required number of signers was presented to the county court on Tuesday, requesting the court to call a special election for the purpose of voting on the proposition.

The bond election will be held some time in August, probably the fore part of that month. It takes fifteen days' notice by the court before the election can be held.

The township board, backed by the Commercial club, are to take charge of the good roads campaign and an active one is promised. More interest is being taken in the good roads movement now than ever before and it is thought that there will be no trouble about carrying the proposition by a good vote.

Polk voted on a $50,000 good roads proposition on December 23, 1912. The proposition lacked only twenty-five votes of having a two-thirds majority, which it is necessary to have. The total vote cast at that election was 959, 635 being for the issue and 344 against the issue.

APPEALING COLLECTOR'S BONDS.

County Court in Session Tuesday Examined Bonds of Township Collectors.

The regular session of the county court commenced Monday afternoon, and on Tuesday the court examined and approved the bonds of the following township collectors: Lon Monk of Nodaway township, Felix S. Grundy of Polk, Charles H. Geyer of Hughes, Fred Wright of Green, F. A. Bloomfield of Independence; Charles Worley of Hopkins; J. D. Reynolds of Washington, and W. H. Fannon of Grant. Eugene Rathbun, circuit clerk, filed an abstract of fees collected for the quarter ending June 30, amounting to $339.54.

W. S. Miles resigned as justice of peace of Hopkins township. Mr. Miles has left Hopkins, having a position at the state penitentiary at Jefferson City.

The court ordered the tax cancelled of Thomas O'Neal on forty acres of land, and also the back tax for 1911 and 1912. O'Neal is a county charge and the county has been receiving revenue from said land to help defray the expenses of keeping O'Neal.

TWELVE THRESHING MACHINES

Bushy at Work in the Clyde Vicinity—Estimate Crop of That Vicinity 100,000 Bushels of Wheat.

Twelve threshing machines are working in the near vicinity of Clyde this week with the thermometer registering at Clyde 99° in the shade. Four car loads of wheat are being loaded at the Clyde station and the wheat business is certainly booming.

The threshing machines at work are those of St. Benedictine convent and Conception monastery and church farms, Joseph Hengeler, Albert Hengeler, Frank Wiederholt and son, English & McGinniss, Theodore Derks, Herman Lager, Brice, Allsberry & Son; George Kuhn & Son, O'Brien Bros. and Volley Kinnell.

One hundred thousand bushels of wheat is the conservative estimate of the wheat crop for the Clyde vicinity, and forty thousand bushels has been contracted for. George Kuhn & Son have contracted for their wheat crop from 110 acres, which is estimated at 3,000 bushels, but they expect to have 500 bushels more.

Dow Cook, in Chicago Hospital, Is Getting Well and Will Be Home Possibly by September 1.

Prof. T. H. Cook returned Tuesday morning from Chicago, where he has been to visit his son, Dow Cook, who is in a hospital in that city, taking treatment from Dr. Murphy, the noted bone specialist. Prof. Cook reports that his son is in a very satisfactory condition, and he is much encouraged over the progress he has made. The bones in Dow's hip are entirely cured and there is no bone disease, so Dr. Murphy told Prof. Cook, and treatment is now being taken for a flesh abscess of the muscles of the hip. Dr. Murphy said that Dow would be able to come home possibly about September 1 as a well boy. Ever since Dow has been at Chicago, over a month or so, he has been confined to bed and has had a fifteen-pound weight on his foot. But within the next few days, Dow will be taken from the bed and put in a wheel chair.

Mrs. Glass said this morning that Missouri looked better to her than ever before, after having spent two weeks in the west. That country is burning up in places, and in many of the towns in western Kansas through which she passed on her return trip the thermometer registered 116 in the shade.

101 WAS OFFICIAL

BUT MANY THERMOMETERS WENT UNCLE SAM 10 BETTER.

WAS UP TO 100 MONDAY

Tuesday the Hottest Day of 1913 to Date—July, 1901, and July, 1911, Were Hotter than July, 1913.

Today is the hottest day of the season. At 3:15 o'clock this afternoon the mercury had reached 101.

Monday was a close second as a record breaker. The highest temperature was 100.

The temperature, according to the government thermometer went up to 100, and the minimum temperature was 75 degrees, one less than it was on Sunday. There was almost no wind. Street thermometers in many places went as high as 110. On June 15, 16 and 17 of this year the thermometer was up to 98, the highest mark up to Monday.

A look at some of the temperatures in 1901 and also in 1911 during the month of July shows that July of this year is very good, and that it has been really comfortable so far. For instance, take 1901, the hottest July since the weather record has been kept. In July of that year there were fifteen days that the mercury was 100 or more, and the mean temperature was 98.2, or the highest it has ever been since the record has been kept. Then in July, 1911, there were five consecutive days when the mercury registered 102 and up to 108, which is the highest mark, according to the record, or the hottest day in Maryville. This was on July 5, 1911. The mean temperature of that month in 1911 was 91.9. It was also 91.9 for July, 1912, being the highest next to 1901.

LITTLE THINGS BIG

REV. LIVERETTE TOLD OF GREAT GROWTHS FROM SMALL START.

MUST BE MAKING GOOD

Mr. Blagg Told M. B. C. Graduates They Owed a Duty to Maryville and School to Make Good.

The commencement exercises for the Maryville Business college, held in the First Christian church Monday evening were well attended, although the night was distressingly warm.

The processional was played by Mr. Ralph Eversole as the thirty-six members of the class came in and took the places reserved for them in front of the speaker of the evening, Rev. Liverette of Jefferson City, pastor of the Christian church of that city and chaplain of the house of representatives during the last session of the legislature.

A solo was then given by Mrs. Ferdinand Townsend and a piano number by Miss Eleanor Smith, when President Cook of the Business college introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. Liverette mixes a good deal of humor in his talks, and he said many things to the class on "The Power of Little Things" that brought to them in a pleasant way the importance of taking infinite pains with everything they are given to do, no matter of how little importance it may appear to be, and cited many instances where great things of political, religious, national and commercial importance have come through small beginnings or through a small act.

At the close of the address Mr. W. A. Blagg presented the diplomas to the class, after he had kept them standing for several minutes, alternately praising, scolding, cautioning, admonishing, jollying and inspiring them to do their best, because in the coming years each owed it to Maryville and the school they were leaving to see to it that when inquiries were made concerning them, the answer should always be "Making good."

The program closed with a solo by Miss Marie Jones.

President Cook also announced the winners of special prizes. The first prize, a gold medal, offered by the Remington typewriter company for the greatest efficiency in typewriting, was won by Mr. Felix Meeker, who took 775 words in ten minutes and making but fifteen errors. Mr. Meeker has a position with the Noyes-Norman company of St. Joseph.

The second prize, a gold watch, offered by President Cook, went to Miss Lulu Miller, who took 648 words in ten minutes with only fourteen errors, or an average of fifty-seven words to the minute. Miss Miller has a position with the First National bank of this city.

The following are the graduates:

Eunice Wright, August Croy, Beth Strawn, Homer Hockman, Samuel Castillo, Mattie Carmichael, Loy Woodruff, Ernest Yeaman, Edward J. Howland, Neta Bagby, Katie Psenner, Helen Logan, Elma Thompson, Verna Kennedy, Theresa Carstens, Lester Thompson, Felix Meeker, Marguerite Enoch, Viva Cloud, Jessie Fisher, Cecil Brown, James Fisher, Hazel Sheridan, Edward Gray, J. ## FIVE PAID $55.50.

City Treasury Replenished Through Fines Collected From Reisterous Visitors.

The city of Maryville is $55.50 richer today than it was yesterday, the result of a fight among five men on East First street last Saturday afternoon.

The men, who gave their names in police court as E. S. Smith, E. J. Jones, S. E. Donahue, J. C. Dunegan and P. L. Murphy, are railroad men who live at Conception. They were returning to that place in a car about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when a quarrel started. The quarrel developed into a fight by the time the Jefferson school was reached, and a second fight took place at the K. C. depot. A police alarm was turned in, but before Chief of Police Moberly could reach them the men had left town.

Chief Moberly telephoned to Gabe Purcell at Conception, who arrested the men when they entered that town. Mr. Moberly and Sheriff Wallace then went to Conception and brought the offenders back to Maryville, where they gave bond for their appearance in police court this morning. They did not appear, however, but pleaded guilty before Mr. Purcell to a charge of disturbing the peace and paid the fines and costs, which amounted to $11.10 each. Mayor Robey received a check for the money this morning.

Mr. Purcell told Mayor Robey that the men had not given their real names. They are trainmen and feared losing their jobs. The railroad company is investigating the case now to ascertain whether the men were intoxicated. Mayor Robey sent word that no charge of drunkenness was made against them here.

BANKS DIDN'T WANT MONEY.

$600 That Will Have to Be Renovated Before Money Changers Will Handle It.

Ellis G. Cook has a $600 roll of green backs which the banks refuse to take. It is perfectly good U. S. money, top, but it was found in the bed of a man who died of smallpox, so the banks will have nothing to do with it. Dr. C. T. Bell said that he would be glad to get it, so Mr. Cook gave it to him—only to be washed and disinfected, however.

The money belongs to Mrs. Alonzo Reece of Pickering, whose husband died last May after an illness of smallpox and pneumonia fever. She found it a few days ago when airing the mattress on which her husband had lain sick. Yesterday she came to Maryville and gave the money to Mr. Cook, her attorney, who was then busy settling up the estate.

Only yesterday the probate court granted her the home, $400 worth of the personal property and $400 for the care of the children for a year. The $600 was a totally unexpected find, and Mrs. Reece told her attorney to use it in payment of a $1,000 mortgage on the home. Mr. Cook, knowing that the money had never been disinfected, asked Dr. Bell to do this for him before putting it in circulation.

RAIL STRIKE IS AVERTED

Amicable Understanding Reached at White House Conference.

ARRANGE FOR ARMISTICE.

Settlement to Be Made Under Proposed Erdman Act—Measure Framed to Suit Both Parties to Wage Dispute—Pathway Cleared for Action.

Washington, July 15.—Representatives of the 80,000 conductors and trainmen of eastern railways, who have voted to strike for higher wages, and managing officers of the railroads agreed at the White House to submit their differences to arbitration under the provisions of the Newlands-Clayton act, which President Wilson and congressional leaders promised to make law by tonight. In the meantime no strike will be declared, officials of the employees' brotherhoods agreeing to an armistice until tomorrow night.

This victory for arbitration over the strike was the result of a two-hour conference at the White House between President Wilson and congressional leaders, both Republican and Democratic, the presidents and managers of the railroads and representatives of the brotherhoods of trainmen and conductors.

Smooths Out Differences.
The agreement not only averted temporarily, at least, the strike, which threatened to tie up railroad traffic generally in the east, but smoothed out differences of opinion that had arisen in both houses as to the composition of the board of mediation and provided a permanent commission to deal with railroad disputes.

The pathway was cleared for prompt action in both houses. Senator Kern telephoning from the White House to have the senate adjourned until morning instead of Thursday, as contemplated, and Representative Clayton announcing that he would move to take from the speaker's table his bill, to which amendments in conformity with the Newlands bill in the senate would be attached.

The president later announced that he would sign a measure such as agreed upon and described the conference as "simple and satisfactory."

Provisions of Bill.
The perfected bill will create the United States board of mediation and conciliation, to be composed of a commission of mediation and conciliation, appointed by the president with the consent of the senate, with a salary of $7,500 and a tenure of seven years, and not more than two other officials of the government already appointed by the president with the consent of the senate, who shall be designated by him as the two other members of the board. There also would be an assistant commissioner, with a salary of $5,000, authorized to act in the commissioner's absence.

For the settlement of controversies as they might arise the measure would provide for boards of arbitration of six or three, to be selected with the help of the board of mediation and conciliation wherever necessary. The board would pass upon any disagreements among the arbitrators. Awards made by the board would be executed by the federal courts, with which appeals could be filed.

DEFENDS BUSINESS MEN

President of National Chamber of Commerce Makes Address.

San Francisco, July 15.—"To aid every administration by cordial cooperation; to draw together in a common bond the business men of America in defense of their good name and in the creation of an instrumentality through which they may speak as a whole with authority to the executive and to congress relative to the things which business needs; to create a force comparable in every respect to the organized forces of labor, and of agriculture." These are the objects of the chamber of commerce of the United States now being formed, as outlined by Harry A. Wheeler of Chicago, president of the organization.

Mr. Wheeler, expounding his theme here before the San Francisco chamber of commerce and other commercial bodies, said frankly that, aside from the natural evolution, another reason for the organization of a national body at this time, is "the indiscriminate attacks made upon business generally, upon public platform and in the daily and periodically press of the country."

Wilson Pardons Two Idaho Bankers.

Washington, July 15.—President Wilson granted unconditional pardon to William F. Kettenbach and George H. Kester, each sentenced to five years' imprisonment for making false reports to the comptroller of the currency on the condition of the Lewiston (Ida.) National bank, where they were president and cashier respectively. They were convicted April 4, 1911, but have not served any of their sentences.

MRS. PANKHURST ESCAPES FROM POLICE

Flees in Taxicab and Makes Speech to Militants.

London, July 15.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the suffragettes, made her escape from the police in exciting circumstances.

With Miss Annie Kinney, one of the most ardent of the militants, she appeared at a meeting of the Women's Social and Political union.

Both women, although suffering severely from the effects of their recent hunger strike in prison, delivered stirring addresses. Mrs. Pankhurst announced she would rather die than submit to the government. "My challenge to the government is: 'Give me freedom or kill me,' he said.

Miss Kinney auctioned off two of her licenses under the "cat and mouse act" for $30 each.

The police undertook to arrest Mrs. Pankhurst and Miss Kinney. Mrs. Pankhurst escaped in a taxicab. She was pursued, but so wild were the scenes of disorder outside the pavilion that she got away in the confusion. She is at her apartment in Westminster and the police made no further attempt to arrest her.

LOBBYIST IS ON STAND SIX HOURS

Mulhall Offered $150,000 for His Letters and Papers.

OFFER PROMPTLY REFUSED.

Says Manufacturers' Association Tried to Buy Records Now in Evidence. Witness Identifies Six Hundred Letters—House Probers Also Busy.

Washington, July 15.—Martin M. Mulhall, self-styled lobbyist for ten years for the National Association of Manufacturers, interrupted the senate lobby investigation in reply to what he declared were personal attacks on his character and his purpose in the exposure.

He denied that he had tried to sell the great mass of papers and letters which were recently published and which now are in the hands of the senate committee. Later he said he proposed to introduce witnesses and letters to show that he had been engaged for months in "trying to give away" the great file of correspondence which has brought officers of the National Association of Manufacturers and labor leaders and congressmen into prominence.

Mulhall's statement was made in connection with his request that he be allowed to read a letter he had written May 16, 1913, to Perritt Maxwell, editor of Hearst's Magazine, urging him to have William R. Hearst make the mass of letters public through his publications. This letter reiterated former statements that the writer did not want money, but wanted to get the lobbying documents published "as a service to the public."

Tried to Give Them Away.

"I have attempted for the last two months to give them away," Mulhall told the committee. "I never had in mind the question of the money I would receive for them."

"But you did sell them later to the New York World?" asked Senator Reed.

"I would like to offer further letters and witnesses on that point," said Mulhall. "I did not sell them. I fell into the hands of a gentleman named Barry, who came over to look at the letters for Mr. Hearst. I have learned since that he is what is known as a newspaper tipster. The letters were given to the New York World, but later Mr. Barry came and wanted me to break the contract with the World, saying he could get $150,000 for the letters from the National Association of Manufacturers."

"I said the letters were not for sale; the National Association of Manufacturers did not have money enough to buy them; that I had no proposition of blackmail in connection with them."

Identifies 600 Letters.

Mulhall was on the stand for six hours. In that time nearly 600 letters, telegrams and scraps of memoranda were identified by him with hardly more than a glance. He remembered apparently the first names of members of congress, of lesser politicians, of labor leaders and underlings, of secretaries to congressmen and of all the men he had worked with through a year of most active campaigning in many parts of the country. His performance so interested lawyers present that they sat all through a long day intently watching the witness and every word that the witness uttered in the brief cross-examination that accompanied some of them.

Committees Reach Agreement.

The threatened rupture between the senate and house committees apparently ended with a friendly agreement subscribed to by both sides. Under this arrangement the senate committee will finish its examination of Mulhall before he is turned over to the house; it will also put in the record all the Mulhall correspondence it cares to. Copies of all the letters and memoranda put in will be furnished every member of the Garrett committee and they will have ample time to study the case before they get Mulhall.

TWO KILLED BY SEWER GAS

Cleveland Men Lose Lives in Attempt at Rescue.

Cleveland, July 15.—Michael Juhas and Michael Judd, foundry employees, were killed by sewer gas in an effort to rescue John Donnelly, an employee of the city sewer department, who was rescued by city firemen when the bodies of the other two men were taken out. Juhas and Judd, having seen Donnelly go down a manhole, went to see why he did not come up. They too were overcome with gas and were dead when reached. City firemen, donning smoke helmets, brought out the three and used a pulmotor in a vain effort to resuscitate Judd and Juhas.

Strikers Burn Traction Car.

Lexington, Ky., July 15.—Disorder marked the attempt of the Kentucky Traction company to operate cars with strikebreakers and as a result an appeal has been made for state troops. One car was filled with passengers, but everyone was ejected by the strikers. Another car was burned on the tracks and the company abandoned its efforts. Many arrests were made and a number of strikebreakers and deputy sheriffs were badly beaten.

Monarch

Light Touch

THE extremely light action of the Monarch Typewriter endears it to all operators who use it.

The typist who takes pride in her position finds great satisfaction in being able to turn out as much work, and as good work, per hour, toward the end of the working day as during the morning. Other conditions being the same, she can always do this on a Monarch. There is for users of this machine. The mechanical reason for the Monarch light touch is found in the action of the Monarch type bar, an exclusive and patented feature which gives this remarkably light touch.

We would remind the business man that Monarch light touch means more work and better work, because less physical strength is expended by the operator. Therefore, cost per folio is reduced, making the Monarch a business economy.

SEND FOR MONARCH LITERATURE

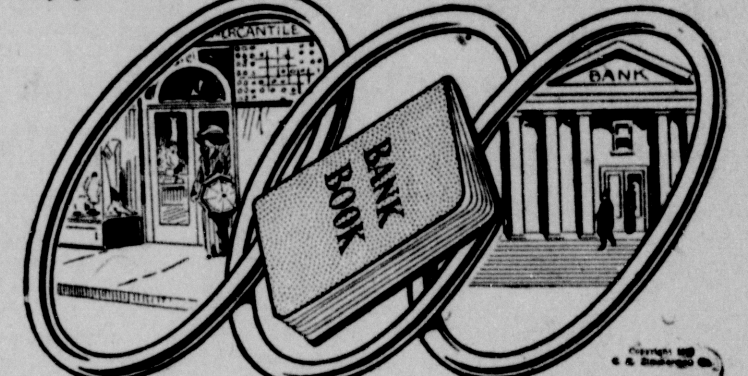

Then try the Monarch, and be convinced that Monarch merit rests in the machine itself, not merely in what we tell you about it.

TOO LONG IN BED NOT GOOD.

Why Lying in Bed Too Long is Not Good for You.

Getting sufficient sleep is one thing, but lying in bed after you have finished your sleep, or lying in bed when it is possible to be up in an easy chair after an illness, is an entirely different matter and something that should be avoided.

In the first place, too much lying in bed has a tendency to bring on anemia, according to some recent medical discoveries. It has long been known that too much lying in bed is harmful to the circulation. To get a good night's sleep—from seven to eight hours, on the average—rests the mind and the body and also the heart in assisting it in keeping up the blood circulation with the least energy, but with the extremely aged and especially the extremely weak, too much lying in bed without any relief of a sitting posture or a few steps about the room, even assisted, daily, will clog the pulmonary circulation, and this frequently results in passive congestion of both sides of the lungs.

Of course many people awake and do not have to arise and go about household duties or hurry through breakfast and to work, and so they idle away a few hours in bed, have their breakfast sent up to them later and remain lying down just as long as possible.

This is really harmful. After sufficient sleep the muscles demand exercise just as much as on retiring, the body and mind required rest. The first bad results of too much lying in bed is a lack of muscular exercise, and this is one of the important things in the daily item of health making and health keeping.

Too much lying in bed means first, lack of proper muscular exercise; second, a loss of appetite and the lack of proper bodily nourishment that follows; third, lack of sufficient fresh air; fourth, lack of sufficient sunlight; fifth, a tendency to become anemic; sixth, passive congestion of lungs.

Many very aged people die as the result of broken bones, especially a broken hip. It is not really the broken hip that kills them, but the necessity of lying a long while in bed, so long that the pulmonary circulation is clogged, there is no incentive to deep breathing, the passive congestion of both sides of the lungs takes place and death follows.

Of course, with the aged who suffer broken bones, lying in bed cannot be helped, but with normal people they are injuring their health whenever they lie in bed longer than necessary for their proper sleep. To lie back on a couch for an hour's nap, or to lie back in an easy chair is quite a different matter. But the lying in bed habit should be avoided.

AN OBJECT LESSON TO STATES.

Woman Suffrage in California Will Bankrupt That State, So Says Miss Chittenden.

According to a dispatch from Washington in the Chicago Inter-Ocean, woman suffrage will bankrupt the state of California, says Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, president of the New York State Anti-Suffrage association, in an official statement, as the result of three months' investigation of the feminine vote in California.

"Creating the millennium with the ballot and regardless of the staggering cost," she says, "has been California's beautiful dream since woman suffrage carried the state eighteen months ago. Children are not to be separated from their parents because of their poverty. The state is to subsidize the home. School teachers are to be pensioned. Old people are to receive an annual income. Prisoners are to be paid for their work in the jails. A regime of ease and comfort is to dawn in the golden state. And then everybody in the community will be happy—except the taxpayers, who must become paupers or criminals before they can draw dividends on their investments in California's utopian scheme.

"Thirty-one commissions were created by the legislature that adjourned a few weeks ago. It is estimated that the annual expenses of these commissions will amount to about $1,000,000. "These are but a few of the results born of woman's entrance into the politics of the state. And California has only just begun to spend money to expedite the millennium.

"The schemes advocated by the more rabid suffragist reformers, if carried out, would bankrupt the state in a few years. Fortunately the women of the state are growing tired of their new toy. The California situation is an object lesson to other states in which women are clamoring for the right to vote."

What Flies Cost the Nation.

Washington—Figured out in money, to say nothing of the loss in human life, the cost to the United States annually of supporting its fly population amounts to $157,800,000, say government experts, who have been making a study of the results of the germ spreading activities of those insects.

It is estimated that the fly is responsible for an expenditure of fifty million dollars for the handling of tuberculosis cases, attributable to germs spread by the pests, while seventy million dollars represents the cost of typhoid fever cases originating in the same way.

As a carrier of intestinal fever and summer diseases, and a transporting agency of dysentery, the fly, scientists say, must be charged with an expenditure of $37,200,000 for the cure of these diseases.—Chicago Record-Herald.

MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, TUESDAY, JULY 15, 1913.

NO. 36.

IS TO VOTE AGAIN

$50,000 BOND ISSUE FOR TOWNSHIP TO BE RE-SUBMITTED.

A PETITION PRESENTED

Township Board and Commercial Club Back of Movement for Good Roads for Polk.

Polk township is again going to vote on a $50,000 bond issue for good roads. Such a petition with the required number of signers was presented to the county court on Tuesday, requesting the court to call a special election for the purpose of voting on the proposition.

The bond election will be held some time in August, probably the fore part of that month. It takes fifteen days' notice by the court before the election can be held.

The township board, backed by the Commercial club, are to take charge of the good roads campaign and an active one is promised. More interest is being taken in the good roads movement now than ever before and it is thought that there will be no trouble about carrying the proposition by a good vote.

Polk voted on a $50,000 good roads proposition on December 23, 1912. The proposition lacked only twenty-five votes of having a two-thirds majority, which it is necessary to have. The total vote cast at that election was 959, 615 being for the issue and 344 against the issue.

APPEOVING COLLECTORS BONDS.

TWELVE THRESHING MACHINES

Busily at Work in the Clyde Vicinity—Estimate Crop of That Vicinity 100,000 Bushels of Wheat.

Twelve threshing machines are working in the near vicinity of Clyde this week with the thermometer registering at Clyde 99°, in the shade. Four car loads of wheat are being loaded at the Clyde station and the wheat business is certainly booming.

The threshing machines at work are those of St. Benedictine convent and Conception monastery and church farms, Joseph Hengeler, Albert Hengeler, Frank Wiederholt and son, English & McGinniss, Theodore Derks, Herman Lager, Brice, Allsberry & Son; George Kuhn & Son, O'Brien Bros. and Volley Kinnell.

One hundred thousand bushels of wheat is the conservative estimate of the wheat crop for the Clyde vicinity, and forty thousand bushels has been contracted for. George Kuhn & Son have contracted for their wheat crop from 110 acres, which is estimated at 3,000 bushels, but they expect to have 500 bushels more.

The bones in Dow's hip are entirely cured and there is no bone disease, so Dr. Murphy told Prof. Cook, and treatment is now being taken for a flesh abscess of the muscles of the hip. Dr. Murphy said that Dow would be able to come home possibly about September 1 as a well boy. ## 101 WAS OFFICIAL

BUT MANY THERMOMETERS WENT UNCLE SAM 10 BETTER.

WAS UP TO 100 MONDAY

Tuesday the Hottest Day of 1913 to Date—July, 1901, and July, 1911, Were Hotter than July, 1913.

Today is the hottest day of the season. At 3:15 o'clock this afternoon the mercury had reached 101.

Monday was a close second as a record breaker. The highest temperature was 100.

The temperature, according to the government thermometer went up to 100, and the minimum temperature was 75 degrees, one less than it was on Sunday. There was almost no wind. Street thermometers in many places went as high as 110. On June 15, 16 and 17 of this year the thermometer was up to 98, the highest mark up to Monday.

A look at some of the temperatures in 1901 and also in 1911 during the month of July shows that July of this year is very good, and that it has been really comfortable so far. For instance, take 1901, the hottest July since the weather record has been kept. In July of that year there were fifteen days that the mercury was 100 or more, and the mean temperature was 98.2, or the highest it has ever been since the record has been kept. Then in July, 1911, there were five consecutive days when the mercury registered 102 and up to 108, which is the highest mark, according to the record, or the hottest day in Maryville. This was on July 5, 1911. The mean temperature of that month in 1911 was 91.9. It was also 91.9 for July, 1912, being the highest next to 1901.

LITTLE THINGS BIG

REV. LIVERETTE TOLD OF GREAT GROWTHS FROM SMALL START.

MUST BE MAKING GOOD

Mr. Blagg Told M. B. C. Graduates They Owed a Duty to Maryville and School to Make Good.

The commencement exercises for the Maryville Business college, held in the First Christian church Monday evening were well attended, although the night was distressingly warm.

The processional was played by Mr. Ralph Eversole as the thirty-six members of the class came in and took the places reserved for them in front of the speaker of the evening, Rev. Liverette of Jefferson City, pastor of the Christian church of that city and chairman of the house of representatives during the last session of the legislature.

A solo was then given by Mrs. Ferdinand Townsend and a piano number by Miss Eleanor Smith, when President Cook of the Business college introduced the speaker of the evening. Rev. Liverette mixes a good deal of humor in his talks, and he said many things to the class on "The Power of Little Things" that brought to them in a pleasant way the importance of taking infinite pains with everything they are given to do, no matter of how little importance it may appear to be, and cited many instances where great things of political, religious, national and commercial importance have come through small beginnings or through a small act.

At the close of the address Mr. W. A. Blagg presented the diplomas to the class, after he had kept them standing for several minutes, alternately praising, scolding, cautioning, admonishing, jollying and inspiring them to do their best, because in the coming years each owed it to Maryville and the school they were leaving to see to it that when inquiries were made concerning them, the answer should always be "Making good."

The program closed with a solo by Miss Marie Jones.

President Cook also announced the winners of special prizes. The first prize, a gold medal, offered by the Remington typewriter company for the greatest efficiency in typewriting, was won by Mr. Felix Meeker, who took 775 words in ten minutes and making but fifteen errors. Mr. Meeker has a position with the Noyes-Norman company of St. Joseph.

The second prize, a gold watch, offered by President Cook, went to Miss Lulu Miller, who took 648 words in ten minutes with only fourteen errors, or an average of fifty-seven words to the minute. Miss Miller has a position with the First National bank of this city.

The following are the graduates: Eunice Wright, August Croy, Beth Strawn, Homer Hockman, Samuel Castillo, Mattie Carmichael, Loy Woodruff, Ernest Yeaman, Edward J. Howard, Neta Bagby, Katie Psenner, Helen Logan, Elma Thompson, Verna Kennedy, Theresa Carstens, Lester Thompson, Felix Meeker, Marguerite Enoch, Viva Cloud, Jessie Fisher, Cecil Brown, James Fisher, Hazel Sheridan, Edward Gray, J. William Linneaman, Clyde Collins, Cecil Sheldon, Roy Wilson, Clara Epperson, Charlie Carter, Lulu Miller, Lola Couter, Orval O. Fulk, Vinnie Tudder, Virgil Laughlin, Della Henderson, Clyde Perkins, Bertha Carstens, Ray McPeck, Edna Walter.

At the close of the commencement exercises a banquet was served at the Ream hotel, participated in by the class and a few friends. President Cook acted as toastmaster, and the following toasts were responded to:

"Gathering Sunflowers in Sunnysdale, St. Joe, by the Light of the Moon," by Mr. Meeker.

"I'm Longing to Be a Steno in Iowa," by Miss Wright.

"Memories of the M. B. C. Picnic at Bridgewater," by Mr. Nowland.

"Recollections and Reflections Concerning Trial Balances," by Miss Thompson.

"Some Pointed Pickings (Pickens & Smith) from the Boss," by Miss Logan.

"A Banker for a Day," by Mr. Gray.

"How Meddling With a Typewriter Won a Medal," by Miss Miller.

"Our Class President," by Miss Sheridan.

FIVE PAID $55.50.

City Treasury Replenished Through Fines Collected From Boisterous Visitors.

The city of Maryville is $55.50 richer today than it was yesterday, the result of a fight among five men on East First street last Saturday afternoon.

The men, who gave their names in police court as E. S. Smith, E. J. Jones, S. E. Donahue, J. C. Dunegan and P. L. Murphy, are railroad men who live at Conception. They were returning to that place in a car about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, when a quarrel started. The quarrel developed into a fight by the time the Jefferson school was reached, and a second fight took place at the K. C. depot. A police alarm was turned in, but before Chief of Police Moberly could reach them the men had left town.

Chief Moberly telephoned to Gabe Purcell at Conception, who arrested the men when they entered that town. Mr. Moberly and Sheriff Wallace then went to Conception and brought the offenders back to Maryville, where they gave bond for their appearance in police court this morning. They did not appear, however, but pleaded guilty before Mr. Purcell to a charge of disturbing the peace and paid the fines and costs, which amounted to $11.10 each. Mayor Robey received a check for the money this morning.

Mr. Purcell told Mayor Robey that the men had not given their real names. They are trainmen and feared losing their jobs. The railroad company is investigating the case now to ascertain whether the men were intoxicated. Mayor Robey sent word that no charge of drunkenness was made against them here.

TO HAVE BIG TIME

Are Planning a Bigger Time Than Ever—Sparking, Band Music, Ball Game and Picture Show.

The emancipation celebration to be held in Maryville on Wednesday, August 6, promises to be the biggest celebration yet given in the city by the colored people. The colored people of St. Joseph are to take part in the celebration and a special train of seven coaches from that city is expected.

The celebration this year is the fiftieth anniversary, and the colored people are trying to make it a big event.

There will also be special attractions during the day.

There will be plenty of ice water and shade and everything will be arranged for the comfort of the people that will be here.

BANKS DIDN'T WANT MONEY.

$600 That Will Have to Be Renovated Before Money Changers Will Handle It.

Ellis G. Cook has a $600 roll of green backs which the banks refuse to take. It is perfectly good U. S. money, top, but it was found in the bed of a man who died of smallpox, so the banks will have nothing to do with it. Dr. C. T. Bell said that he would be glad to get it, so Mr. Cook gave it to him—only to be washed and disinfected, however.

The money belongs to Mrs. Alonzo Reece of Pickering, whose husband died last May after an illness of smallpox and pneumonia fever. She found it a few days ago when airing the mattress on which her husband had lain sick. Yesterday she came to Maryville and gave the money to Mr. Cook, her attorney, who was then busy settling up the estate.

Only yesterday the probate court granted her the home, $400 worth of the personal property and $400 for the care of the children for a year. The $600 was a totally unexpected find, and Mrs. Reece told her attorney to use it in payment of a $1,000 mortgage on the home. Mr. Cook, knowing that the money had never been disinfected, asked Dr. Bell to do this for him before putting it in circulation.

The Cloudlands of Fancy.

In the cloudlands of my fancy,
Where I roam with brow serene,
I forget life's disappointments
And all things low and mean.
There's no room for brooding sorrow,
There's no place for weary care,
For none but joyful spirits
Are allowed to enter there.

In this realm of sunny cloudland
Bloom the sweetest, rarest flowers,
And their perfume charms my senses
As I linger near their bowers,
Hand in hand with airy creatures,
Skipping through the wooded dells,
'Till we reach the smiling brooklet,
And list to the tale it tells.

In that land of fadeless beauty
I would wander evermore,
Strolling down the pleasant pathways,
Thinking not of earth's sad shore;
But stern duty bids me waken
From my dreams of fancy born.
I must take up life's new burdens
With the oft-recurring morn.

PICKERING ITEMS.

(By E. V. Dusker.)

A good crowd was out to enjoy the excellent program of the Union Forum last Saturday evening. The various numbers were creditably rendered and well received. The number by the Morford-Dueker Talk Chalk Co. was an attractive and somewhat unusual feature. Miss Morford, the chalker, gave us a delightful glimpse of "Moonlight Bay" and the portraits of some of our common friends, while Miss Dueker, the talker, further delineated them by reading and music. The next program of the Union Forum will be given in the Christian church, July 26.

Grandma McGuire is suffering very much with her injured hip. The Sunday school base ball league will play a return game with the Hopkins team on the Hopkins diamond next Friday afternoon.

WHAT YOU OUGHT TO EAT.

What Zona Gale Says About Twelve Elements of the Body.

In the August Woman's Home Companion, Zona Gale, writing an article entitled "Ethics and Cooks," quotes, as follows, Mrs. Frederick Gorton, who has prepared a chart of food value, and is something of a diet expert:

"We are invading the sanctity of the home these days, taking possession of the larder and asking: 'What shall we eat? As dietitians, what shall we give husband or child, or the family for which we are paid to cook, that shall insure them sound bodies? And, in fact, are we dietitians at all?'"

"It is evident that we are not able to judge intelligently of foods without understanding the office that they bear to the body, without knowing the chemical composition of both food and body, without knowing how age, climate, employment, affect digestion and assimilation, without knowing the elements of the body and by what combinations these may be supplied, and without understanding the properties of foods. These sound elementary, and so they are. But how many in whose keeping is the feeding of a family know these elements?"

"Take so simple a thing as the twelve elements of the body: Carbon, oxygen, hydrogen, nitrogen, phosphorus, sulphur, chlorine, sodium, potassium, magnesium, ferum (iron) and calcium. The body will of course need for its growth and its repair and its energy and its temperature these elements that enter into its construction. But these elements must be in certain combinations before they can become animal food, and of course these combinations we must know as the very beginning of the science of feeding folk."

"When we turn to the food stuffs themselves, we open a subject full of bewildering interest and surprise. It is almost as if the foods possessed special intelligence, able to perform highly specialized offices—if only we will trouble to learn enough about them to give them the chance to do this under the best conditions."

RAIL STRIKE IS AVERTED

Amicable Understanding Reached at White House Conference.

ARRANGE FOR ARMISTICE.

Settlement to Be Made Under Proposed Erdman Act—Measure Framed to Suit Both Parties to Wage Dispute—Pathway Cleared for Action.

Washington, July 15.—Representatives of the 80,000 conductors and trainmen of eastern railroads, who have voted to strike for higher wages, and managing officers of the railroads, agreed at the White House to submit their differences to arbitration under the provisions of the Newlands-Clayton act, which President Wilson and congressional leaders promised to make law by tonight. In the meantime no strike will be declared, officials of the employees' brotherhoods agreeing to an armistice until tomorrow night.

This victory for arbitration over the strike was the result of a two-hour conference at the White House between President Wilson and congressional leaders, both Republican and Democratic, the presidents and managers of the railroads and representatives of the brotherhoods of trainmen and conductors.

Smoothed Out Differences. The agreement not only averted temporarily, at least, the strike, which threatened to tie up railroad traffic generally in the east, but smoothed out differences of opinion that had arisen in both houses as to the composition of the board of mediation and provided a permanent commission to deal with railroad disputes.

The pathway was cleared for prompt action in both houses, Senator Kern telephoning from the White House to have the senate adjourn until morning instead of Thursday, as contemplated, and Representative Clayton announcing that he would move to take from the speaker's table his bill, to which amendments in conformity with the Newlands bill in the senate would be attached.

The president later announced that he would sign a measure such as agreed upon and described the conference as "simple and satisfactory."

Provisions of Bill. The perfected bill will create the United States board of mediation and conciliation, to be composed of a commission of mediation and conciliation, appointed by the president with the consent of the senate, with a salary of $7,500 and a tenure of seven years, and not more than two other officials of the government already appointed by the president with the consent of the senate, who shall be designated by him as the two other members of the board. There also would be an assistant commissioner, with a salary of $5,000, authorized to act in the commissioner's absence.

For the settlement of controversies as they might arise the measure would provide for boards of arbitration of six or three, to be selected with the help of the board of mediation and conciliation wherever necessary. The board would pass upon any disagreements among the arbitrators. Awards made by the board would be executed by the federal courts, with which appeals could be filed.

DEFENDS BUSINESS MEN

President of National Chamber of Commerce Makes Address.

San Francisco, July 15.—"To aid every administration by cordial cooperation; to draw together in a common bond the business men of America in defense of their good name and in the creation of an instrumentality through which they may speak as a whole with authority to the executive and to congress relative to the things which business needs; to create a force comparable in every respect to the organized forces of labor, and of agriculture." These are the objects of the chamber of commerce of the United States now being formed, as outlined by Harry A. Wheeler of Chicago, president of the organization.

Mr. Wheeler, expounding his theme here before the San Francisco chamber of commerce and other commercial bodies, said frankly that, aside from the natural evolution, another reason for the organization of a national body at this time, is "the indiscriminate attacks made upon business generally, upon public platform and in the daily and periodical press of the country."

Wilson Pardons Two Idaho Bankers. Washington, July 15.—President Wilson granted unconditional pardon to William F. Kettenbach and George H. Kester, each sentenced to five years' imprisonment for making false reports to the comptroller of the currency on the condition of the Lewiston (Ida.) National bank, where they were president and cashier respectively. They were convicted April 4, 1911, but have not served any of their sentences.

112 in Kansas.

Kansas City, July 15.—With hot winds blowing at the rate of thirteen to twenty-five miles an hour Kansas experienced the high heat record of the year, the high temperature in some places equalling that of 1911, when new records were made. The highest temperature, 112 degrees, was recorded at Clay Center.

MRS. PANKHURST ESCAPES FROM POLICE

Flees in Taxicab and Makes Speech to Militant's.

London, July 15.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, leader of the suffragettes, made her escape from the police in exciting circumstances.

With Miss Annie Kinney, one of the most ardent of the militants, she appeared at a meeting of the Women's Social and Political union.

Both women, although suffering severely from the effects of their recent hunger strike in prison, delivered stirring addresses. Mrs. Pankhurst announced she would rather die than submit to the government. "My challenge to the government is: 'Give me freedom or kill me,' she said.

Miss Kinney auctioned off two of her licenses under the "cat and mouse act" for $30 each.

The police undertook to arrest Mrs. Pankhurst and Miss Kinney. Mrs. Pankhurst escaped in a taxicab. She was pursued, but so wild were the scenes of disorder outside the pavilion that she got away in the confusion. She is at her apartment in Westminster and the police made no further attempt to arrest her.

LOBBYIST IS ON STAND SIX HOURS

Mulhall Offered $150,000 for His Letters and Papers.

OFFER PROMPTLY REFUSED.

Says Manufacturers' Association Tried to Buy Records Now in Evidence. Witness Identifies Six Hundred Letters—House Probers Also Busy.

Washington, July 15.—Martin M. Mulhall, self-styled lobbyist for ten years for the National Association of Manufacturers, interrupted the senate lobby investigation in reply to what he declared were personal attacks on his character and his purpose in the exposure.

He denied that he had tried to sell the great mass of papers and letters which were recently published and which now are in the hands of the senate committee. Later he said he proposed to introduce witnesses and letters to show that he had been engaged for months in "trying to give away" the great file of correspondence which has brought officers of the National Association of Manufacturers and labor leaders and congressmen into prominence.

Mulhall's statement was made in connection with his request that he be allowed to read a letter he had written May 16, 1913, to Perriton Maxwell, editor of Hearst's Magazine, urging him to have William R. Hearst make the mass of letters public through his publications. This letter reiterated former statements that the writer did not want money, but wanted to get the lobbying documents published "as a service to the public."

Tried to Give Them Away.

"I have attempted for the last two months to give them away," Mulhall told the committee. "I never had in mind the question of the money I would receive for them."

"But you did sell them later to the New York World?" asked Senator Reed.

"I would like to offer further letters and witnesses on that point," said Mulhall. "I did not sell them. I fell into the hands of a gentleman named Barry, who came over to look at the letters for Mr. Hearst. I have learned since that he is what is known as a newspaper tipster. The letters were given to the New York World, but later Mr. Barry came and wanted me to break the contract with the World, saying he could get $150,000 for the letters from the National Association of Manufacturers."

"I said the letters were not for sale; the National Association of Manufacturers did not have money enough to buy them; that I had no proposition of blackmail in connection with them."

Identifies 600 Letters.

Mulhall was on the stand for six hours. In that time nearly 600 letters, telegrams and scraps of memoranda were identified by him with hardly more than a glance. He remembered apparently the first names of members of congress, of lesser politicians, of labor leaders and underlings, of secretaries to congressmen and of all the men he had worked with through a year of most active campaigning in many parts of the country. His performance so interested lawyers present that they sat all through a long day intently watching the witness and every word that the witness uttered in the brief cross-examination that accompanied some of them.

Committees Reach Agreement.

The threatened rupture between the senate and house committees apparent ended with a friendly agreement subscribed to by both sides. Under this arrangement the senate committee will finish its examination of Mulhall before he is turned over to the house; it will also put in the record all the Mulhall correspondence it cares to. Copies of all the letters and memoranda put in will be furnished every member of the Garrett committee and they will have ample time to study the case before they get Mulhall.

TWO KILLED BY SEWER GAS

Cleveland Men Lose Lives in Attempt at Rescue.

Cleveland, July 15.—Michael Juhas and Michael Judd, foundry employees, were killed by sewer gas in an effort to rescue John Donnelly, an employee of the city sewer department, who was rescued by city firemen when the bodies of the other two men were taken out. Juhas and Judd, having seen Donnelly go down a manhole, went to see why he did not come up. They too were overcome with gas and were dead when reached. City firemen, donning smoke helmets, brought out the three and used a pulmotor in a vain effort to resuscitate Judd and Juhas.

Strikers Burn Traction Car.

Lexington, Ky., July 15.—Disorder marked the attempt of the Kentucky Traction company to operate cars with strikebreakers and as a result an appeal has been made for state troops. One car was filled with passengers, but everyone was ejected by the strikers. Another car was burned on the tracks and the company abandoned its efforts. Many arrests were made and a number of strikebreakers and deputy sheriffs were badly beaten.

Monarch

Light Touch

THE extremely light action of the Monarch Typewriter endears it to all operators who use it.

The typist who takes pride in her position finds great satisfaction in being able to turn out as much work, and as good work, per hour, toward the end of the working day as during the morning. Other conditions being the same, she can always do this on a Monarch. There is for users of this machine. The mechanical reason for the Monarch light touch is found in the action of the Monarch type bar, an exclusive and patented feature which gives this remarkably light touch.

We would remind the business man that Monarch light touch means more work and better work, because less physical strength is expended by the operator. Therefore, cost per folio is reduced, making the Monarch a business economy.

TOO LONG IN BED NOT GOOD.

Why Lying in Bed Too Long is Not Good for You.

Getting sufficient sleep is one thing, but lying in bed after you have finished your sleep, or lying in bed when it is possible to be up in an easy chair after an illness is an entirely different matter and something that should be avoided.

In the first place, too much lying in bed has a tendency to bring on anemia, according to some recent medical discoveries. It has long been known that too much lying in bed is harmful to the circulation. To get a good night's sleep—from seven to eight hours, on the average—rests the mind and the body and also the heart in assisting it in keeping up the blood circulation with the least energy, but with the extremely aged and especially the extremely weak, too much lying in bed without any relief of a sitting posture or a few steps about the room, even assisted, daily, will clog the pulmonary circulation, and this frequently results in passive congestion of both sides of the lungs.

Of course many people awake and do not have to arise and go about household duties or hurry through breakfast and to work, and so they lie away a few hours in bed, have their breakfast sent up to them later and remain lying down just as long as possible.

This is really harmful. After sufficient sleep the muscles demand exercise just as much as on retiring, the body and mind required rest. The first bad results of too much lying in bed is a lack of muscular exercise, and this is one of the important things in the daily item of health making and health keeping.

Too much lying in bed means first, lack of proper muscular exercise; second, a loss of appetite and the lack of proper bodily nourishment that follows; third, lack of sufficient fresh air; fourth, lack of sufficient sunlight; fifth, a tendency to become anemic; sixth, passive congestion of lungs. Many very aged people die as the result of broken bones, especially a broken hip. It is not really the broken hip that kills them, but the necessity of lying a long while in bed, so long that the pulmonary circulation is clogged, there is no incentive to deep breathing, the passive congestion of both sides of the lungs takes place and death follows.

Of course, with the aged who suffer from broken bones, lying in bed cannot be helped, but with normal people they are injuring their health whenever they lie in bed longer than necessary for their proper sleep. To lie back on a couch for an hour's nap, or to lie back in an easy chair is quite a different matter. But the lying in bed habit should be avoided.

AN OBJECT LESSON TO STATES.

Woman Suffrage in California Will Bankrupt That State, So Says Miss Chittenden.

According to a dispatch from Washington in the Chicago Inter-Ocean, woman suffrage will bankrupt the state of California, says Miss Alice Hill Chittenden, president of the New York State Anti-Suffrage association, in an official statement, as the result of three months' investigation of the feminine vote in California.

"Creating the millennium with the ballot and regardless of the staggering cost," she says, "has been California's beautiful dream since woman suffrage carried the state eighteen months ago. Children are not to be separated from their parents because of their poverty. The state is to subsidize the home. School teachers are to be pensioned. Old people are to receive an annual income. Prisoners are to be paid for their work in the jails. A regime of ease and comfort is to dawn in the golden state. And then everybody in the community will be happy—except the taxpayers, who must become paupers or criminals before they can draw dividends on their investments in California's utopian scheme."

"Thirty-one commissions were created by the legislature that adjourned a few weeks ago. It is estimated that the annual expenses of these commissions will amount to about $1,000,000."

"These are but a few of the results born of woman's entrance into the politics of the state. And California has only just begun to spend money to expedite the millennium."

"The schemes advocated by the more rabid suffragist reformers, if carried out, would bankrupt the state in a few years. Fortunately the women of the state are growing tired of their new toy. The California situation is an object lesson to other states in which women are clambering for the right to vote."

What Flies Cost the Nation.

Washington—Figured out in money, to say nothing of the loss in human life, the cost to the United States annually of supporting its fly population amounts to $157,800,000, say government experts, who have been making a study of the results of the germ spreading activities of those insects. It is estimated that the fly is responsible for an expenditure of fifty million dollars for the handling of tuberculosis cases, attributable to germs spread by the pests, while seventy million dollars represents the cost of typhoid fever cases originating in the same way.

As a carrier of intestinal fever and summer diseases, and a transporting agency of dysentery, the fly, scientists say, must be charged with an expenditure of $37,200,000 for the cure of these diseases.—Chicago Record-Herald.
